Taking forward the tradition of innovation in tiles, presents "Slip Shield" floor tiles in which a coating is applied on the tiles which keeps the co-efficient of friction high even when the surface is wet and soapy[*ramp value>r11]. This preempts any possibility of slipping. Furthermore, the coating allows for limitless design possibilities, making Slip Shield tiles well suited to live-up frequently wet areas in homes, as also high traffic like malls and restaurants.

Slip Shield tiles are also resistant to graze and blemish and hence lend a sense of timelessness to the design. While being highly functional in nature and easy to maintain, the tiles create a distinctive ambience and "feel" even to utility areas.

Slip shield tiles have been independently tested and certified by the ceramic Research Company, Malaysia, which is the foremost independent institution in the world for scientific research in physical & thermal properties of ceramic products.

An overhead view of a modern office space. The floor is covered in large, rectangular tiles with a realistic wood-grain pattern. On the left, a dark grey desk is cluttered with various items including a lamp, papers, and a wooden tray. A brown briefcase sits on the floor nearby. In the top left, a white desk with a black stool is visible. The top center features a white cabinet with a row of colorful binders on top. To the right, a long, dark grey desk is equipped with multiple computer workstations, each with a monitor, keyboard, and mouse. A blue chair is tucked under one workstation, a white chair under another, and a red chair is in the bottom right. A small black chalkboard with the phrase "Carpe Diem" written on it stands against the wall. The overall aesthetic is clean, functional, and contemporary.

Bring wood joy to home.
